Message

One DepEd toward Quality Education.

Congratulations to all the 2019 completers and graduates!

This year's ceremonies are anchored on the theme "Pagkakaiba sa Pagkakaiba-iba: Kalidad na Edukasyon para sa Lahat."

Faithful to our mandate, we in DepEd X have always been striving toward this challenge of unity amidst diversity particularly in the delivery of inclusive education as evidenced by the continuous collective efforts of our DepEd officials, school administrators and staff, teachers, families, communities, and stakeholders. Proof of these noble efforts is the accomplishments of this year's batch of completers and graduates.

But with these accomplishments come bigger challenges—the challenge for our learners to apply their acquired competencies and hurdle the next levels of their academic preparation and even career path, and it is our duty and challenge as well to take them to where they want to be.

While the road to quality education has never been easy, it is nevertheless not impossible especially if we work as "One Team, One Dream, One Direction" just like what we always say "One Department of Education."

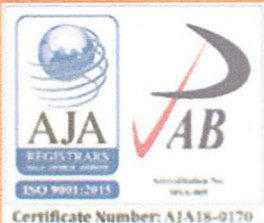

All together, let us march toward success—onward to quality education for all.

Once again, congratulations to all of us!

MESSAGE

My warmest greetings and congratulations to the foremost champions of this momentous occasion—the completers and graduates of School Year 2018-2019!

Graduation and moving-up ceremonies are indeed a joyous celebration, and not only because it culminates another year of learning and discovery, perseverance, and passionate work among our learners. It also caps off another year of successful collaboration among parents, teachers, education officials and personnel, community members, partners, and stakeholders of diverse roots, cultures, and traditions.

This year's theme, "Unity in Diversity: Quality Education for All," speaks of our commitment and loyalty to our culture—diverse as it is—that reflects our soul and unites our people. Time and again, we have proven that regardless of our descent, status, ethnicity, and religious and political beliefs, we can unite towards the realization of a common goal—the delivery of quality, accessible, relevant, and liberating basic education for the Filipino learners.

While the Department of Education (DepEd) has carried on and embraced change amid technological advancements and the continuously shifting socio-economic landscape, it commits itself to the holistic development of 21st century learners who are not only critical and innovative thinkers in the fields of science, mathematics, and robotics, but who are also artistic and creative, and can thrive in the fields that appeal to our soul and our sense of identity.

Rest assured that through the K to 12 Basic Education Program, DepEd shall strive to hone our future leaders and nation-builders in a society that embraces diversity and all its challenges and advantages. I am positive that whatever path they wish to pursue hereafter, our graduates and completers will continuously enrich what makes up the Filipino soul—our culture, talent, history, and capacity to survive.

Again, congratulations and mabuhay!

GRADUATION MESSAGE

My warmest greetings and congratulations to the graduates of school year 2018-2019! Finally, all your sleepless nights and stressful days have paid off.

My greetings to all the proud parents for all your hard work in providing for your sons and daughters has made them able to reach this milestone in their lives. Graduation is indeed the most celebrated occasion in a life of a student because every commencement is a proof that a requirement has been completed and another level has been reached. It is a milestone that will be yours forever and no one can steal.

We may differ in the status in life, because there were those lucky enough to be born with a silver spoon in their mouth and there were those less fortunate ones who must work hard to pay for school. We may differ in beliefs and religion. We differ in the race or tribe that we belonged to. We may differ in our family upbringing and family traditions and practices. One is different from the other but our differences are not a hindrance to be united together. As our theme for this year, Pagkakaisa sa Pagkakaiba-iba: Kalidad na Edukasyon para sa Lahat (Unity in Diversity: Quality Education for All).

Our differences with one another are what make everyone unique. In spite of all the deviation, there is unity in diversity. Quality education is not hindered by the varied differences of the Filipinos, but it is what makes us strong to achieve greater heights. The tagnipan-ons may have differences too, but that differences are what pushed us to all the more be motivated to achieve a one common goal that is to strive to provide a quality education that will enrich the life and empower the Tagnipan-ons.

I have no greater joy than seeing all my beloved and fellow tagnipan-ons toil hard towards the achievement of their dreams. I, as the Father of this city will continue to find ways to make education accessible for all of you and provide you with a safety and comfortable environment for learning.

As the city aspires to soar higher, do not be afraid to spread your wings and reach your dreams!

MABUHAY GRADUATES of Batch 2019!

City Mayor
