Regional Director
Department of Education-Region 10

Dear Dir. Bayocot,

Greetings!

Our office is experiencing difficulty releasing the PRC license cards to renewing professionals and new registrants on the same day of their transactions.

Early this year, our release of license cards on the same day was no longer possible due to the non-availability of our printing materials, especially the ribbons. The delivery of materials from our supplier in Manila is not sufficient to cover our piled-up backlogs of unprinted ID cards, which is beyond our control. The situation prompted us to print and release the cards by batch or per month, depending on the availability of supplies.

With the above predicament and for the moment, may we humbly request consideration to accept the Certificate of Good Standing (COGS) or the claim slip issued to the professionals as proof of their eligibility, until such time that we can go back to the normal schedule of releasing our printed PRC cards and supplies will be sufficient enough to cover our one-month backlog.

Further, awaiting the release of the printed PRC ID, these documents are proof of their processed license renewal or initial registration, as the case may be for new passers.

Our appreciation and gratitude for your consideration of our appeal.

Thank you and God bless!

Very truly yours,

JULIE L. SABALZA
Regional Director III
